LOVE THIS SPOT // RTHNK

"Love This Spot represented by RTHNK Inc." hereinafter referred to as "Love This Spot"

The following general terms and conditions apply to the business relationship between the coupon users (hereinafter referred to as "Ultimate Consumer") and the third-party-companies who have published ads with coupons in the book "Love this Spot" and are represented on the website www.lovethisspot.com (hereinafter referred to as "Campaignee").

Love this Spot and its publisher RTHNK Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "Love this Spot") role is to bring both parties, the Campaignee and the Ultimate Consumer, together by publishing the Campaignee vouchers in the book called "Love this Spot".

These terms and conditions can be viewed, saved, and printed at any time at www.lovethisspot.com/terms.html

02 Rules on using the coupons

General rules for using the coupons in the coupon book Love this Spot

1. On the ad of the Campaignee you can see whether a reservation/appointment or certain time or day is desired before using the coupon. However, if you make a reservation over the phone, you do not have to say that you own a Love this Spot book and the Campaignee is not allowed to ask for it either.
2. The coupons are generally not valid for food delivery or take-out. If the coupon can be used for delivery or take-out can be individually decided by each Campaignee – since Love this Spot is designed for the Ultimate User to have a great experience at the Campaignee's facilities and surroundings.
3. When ordering or before using the coupon, the Campaignee's staff must be informed of the Love this Spot Coupon.
4. The coupon must remain in the Love this Spot book for the Campaignee's staff to cut out. For security reasons the complete Love this Spot book must be presented, no separate coupons or pages will be accepted. Torn or cut out coupons, copies, prints or pictures of the Campaignee's coupons will not be accepted. A cash payment of the coupons is not possible.
5. The Campaignee's coupons are mainly meant for parties of two. If the order is larger than two e.g. meals, drinks, etc. the coupon will be used on the cheapest item at all times. The item cannot be selected by the Ultimate Consumer.

6. The Campaignee's coupon cannot be combined with other coupons, vouchers or campaigns offered by the Campaignee (apart from paid vouchers), daily discounts and weekly recurring daily discounts as well as bonus discount systems/ bonus cards. The Love this Spot coupon must be redeemed when paying the regular price according to the price listed at the visit.

In the case of written reductions on the price list that are valid for more than one week without interruption, the voucher with the discounted price must be redeemed.

7. The vouchers do not have to be recognized at special events and private parties. Special events within the meaning of the Love this Spot rules are events to which access for customers with or without a Love this Spot coupon is not granted during the current opening times due to a closed society. If the Ultimate User explicitly rents a separate room or the entire establishment at the Campaignee's facility for celebrations, the voucher is also not valid for this occasion.
8. If a special agreement is noted on the Campaignee's coupon that deviates from these rules, it will be validated by the Campaignee.
9. A Campaignee is not permitted under any circumstances to redeem the coupons of other Campaignee's from the Love this Spot book.
10. When redeeming the coupon, you will not incur any disadvantages in terms of quality, quantity, service, etc. by the Campaignee.
11. You are not obliged to provide your personal data at any time when redeeming the coupon. All information you provide to the Campaignee in this regard is provided on a voluntary basis.
12. In the event of non-compliance with the points above the Campaignee is not obliged to redeem the Love this Spot coupon.

Love this Spot is not liable for damage resulting from the use of the publication.

Love this Spot relies on information from the respective Campaignee and accepts no liability or responsibility for the correctness, completeness, reliability, quality and topicality of the offers and information provided. The Campaignee is solely liable for all services or goods for which a corresponding discount or other advantage is granted on the coupons.

Love this Spot publishes the Love this Spot coupon book and provides the online portal www.lovetheisspot.com in terms of their production and sales.

The included coupons can only be provided by the respective Campaignee.

The Campaignee holds responsibility for the content of the coupon and for redeeming the coupon offers and is also responsible for executing or complying with the coupon offer made available by redeeming the coupon.

Love this Spot must point out that there are no claims against Love this Spot arising from the unwillingness or inability redeeming the coupon with the Campaignee (especially in the event of insolvency).

All claims and obligations resulting from the scope of services of the coupon offers exist exclusively between the Campaignee and the Ultimate Consumer.

For possible warranty, damage compensation or other liability claims arising from this service, only the Campaignee is to be claimed as the service provider.

Love this Spot always endeavors to maintain the functions of www.lovethisspot.com as far as possible.

This depends on advance services provided by third parties, such as the availability of the internet or mobile network or data center services. Love this Spot cannot guarantee or be liable for their availability.

Love this Spot sales representatives are not authorized to make verbal side agreements or assurances that go beyond the content of the written contract and terms and conditions.

Conflicting or deviating conditions only apply if Love this Spot has expressly agreed in writing.

We want everyone to have a great experience!
